Experience

- Research Student
  Database Systems Lab, Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN — August 2014 – Present
  - Research on efficient indexing technique for spatial query processing by proposing a new data structure to achieve performance enhancements in distributed computing environments.
  - Developed Learning Programming using Interactive Map Activities (LIMO) system offering an environment for students to learn how to program by providing interactive map operations.
  - Implemented parallel computing environments using Apache Hadoop and Spark for Similarity Group-by operator, which extends the semantics of the standard SQL Group-by query.
- Full Stack Developer
  Rosen Center for Advanced Computing, Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN — August 2014 – Present
  - As a participant in Geospatial Data Analysis Building Blocks (GABBs) project, developing web applications in HUBZero platform for researchers to manage, analyze and visualize geospatial data.
  - Performing requirements analysis, service design, and back-end/front-end developments using various languages and frameworks. Implemented tools listed on https://mygeohub.org/groups/gabbs/tools
